

The Boulders at Sonoma Ranch

Mesa Associates LLC

Las Cruces, New Mexico

2,600 sq. ft.

The Recreation Center for the community of The Boulders at Sonoma Ranch was designed as a gathering space for this exclusive 55+ gated golf course community. The architecture is contemporary with a respect for the history and culture of southwest New Mexico. The amenities include a large indoor recreation room that can be partitioned for simultaneous multiple uses, a full kitchen, an exercise room, and various covered verandas with barbecues and fireplaces, as well as showers and changing facilities. The expansive pool area is dramatically enclosed by the half round pergola which provides welcome shade in the warm summer months. The resort-style clubhouse provides abundant social, leisure, and recreational opportunities to enhance the active adult lifestyle.

