Pope Resources

Port Ludlow, Washington

53 units, 20.86 acres, 3.62 du/ac

1,911 - 2,303 sq. ft. plans

These waterfront townhouses on the eastern shore of Washington's Olympic Peninsula, offer a unique setting of marina, water, mountain, and forested views. Designed as empty nester or vacation homes with dual master suites, (some on the first floor) and lofts large enough for home office use, the four plan variations also offer walk-in closets, gourmet kitchens and laundry rooms. Wide covered verandahs and decks overlooking Puget Sound allow for outdoor living, even during summer showers, and the front porches and charming central courtyards provide opportunities for easy interaction with neighbors. The interiors have a spacious, single family home feeling with lots of high glass to capture the light. The colorful exteriors with a mix of materials project individuality and a charming, New England village ambiance, and allows for a maintenance-free vacation lifestyle.
